

Valadares, a centennial brand.

100 years giving shape to dreams

There are things in life that justify their existence and reaching 100 years is one of them. A brand with history and soul built with the experience and knowledge of the ceramic artistry that takes shape in the dedication and competence of its collaborators and partners.

Aligning tradition to innovation and design, a 100% Portuguese made and a strong environmental component we have revolutionised the sanitary ceramic market with the development of new materials.

We celebrate the centennial year on the 25th of April and it is with great privilege that we make many memories come alive by safekeeping the artistic and cultural heritage of the brand.
